

EXPO Hall doors open

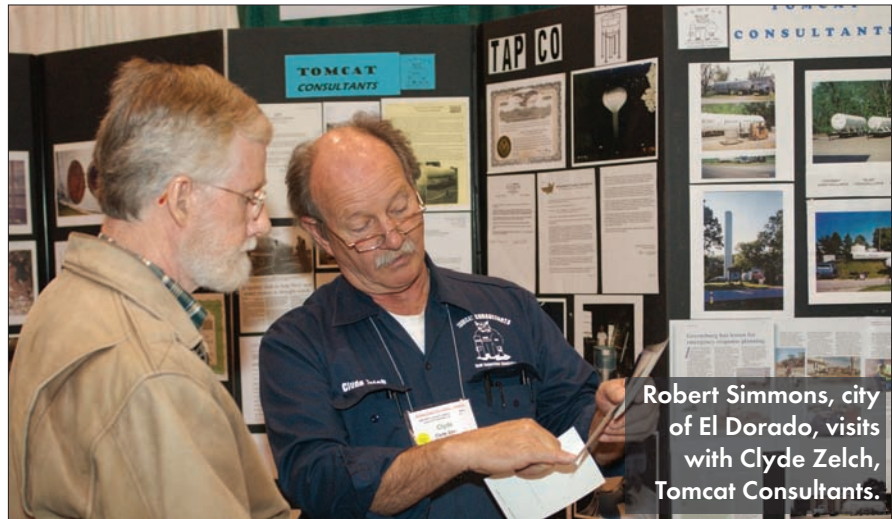

EXPO Hall doors opened at 4 p.m. on Tuesday. Here comes the crowd.

John Kaufman, Leavenworth Water Dept. and Dave Cole, Mueller Company, stop for the KRWA camera.

Judy and Elmer Fienen, Montgomery RWD 2.

Robert Simmons, city of El Dorado, visits with Clyde Zelch, Tomcat Consultants.

"Okay, all seven of us want a $50 Wal-Mart gift card for that $25 donation to WaterPac."

Jason Boyd, Layne Christensen Company and Larry Smith, Sedgwick RWD 3, have their eye on a large pumping unit.

Cookies, cookies and more cookies – and so delicious.

Mike Zimmerman with HDR Consulting.

278 booth spaces were filled in EXPO Hall. The KRWA conference appreciates the support of exhibitors and sponsors.

Stacy Runnion, city of Phillipsburg, makes use of the Cyber Café.

The Cyber Café hosted six computers. EXPO Hall is also totally wireless for the KRWA conference.
